HUD awards housing funds to assist people with disabilities

$157.8 million designated

Secretary of Housing and Urban Development Henry G. Cisneros announced funding of $157.8 million to finance 2,559 rental housing units for lowincome people with disabilities under HUD's Section 811

The funds, in the form of capital advances, will finance 203 applications from non-profit groups to develop projects in 44

"HUD's mission is to help people create communities of opportunities. These funds will help non-profit groups as they tackle the special housing needs of low-income people with disabilities," said Secretary Cisneros.

Grantees receiving these Fiscal Year 1994 awards will fund projects for persons with development disabilities, chronic mental illness and physical disabilities.

In Mississippi, Pine Belt Mental Healthcare Resources. Hattiesburg, was funded for a seven-unit group home to house the chronic mentally ill. The Section 811 program, created by the National Affordable Housing Act of 1990, provides capital advances to private non-profit sponsors to finance new construction, rehabilitation or acquisition of rental housing for persons with disabilities.

The capital advances do not have to be paid back to HUD; aslong as the sponsor restricts occupancy to very low-income persons with disabilities for the first 40 years of operation.

HUD also enters into Rental Assistance Contracts with the non-profit sponsors for a 20-year period to help cover operating expenses. Residents pay 30 percent of their income

Group planning shelter for troubled youths

A loosely knit group of Hancock citizens bound themselves together tighter Tuesday, agreeing to offer themselves as HOPE to desperate and troubled people.

It appears there's major help on the way — including a year's free use of a 20-acre spread in the Catahoula community, complete with buildings. "It's such a struggle when you come up from the bottom. When you're at the bottom, and you don't have hope, there's no chance of coming up," said Mary Woodson, who hosted the Tuesday night meeting in her home.

She made the comment after the group settled on the name HOPE, and decided it didn't have to stand for anything other than what hope is.

The group met for the first time last week at Carole's Olde Towne Restaurant in Bay St. Louis to discuss the lack of any type of shelter for abused or runaway youths, and the lack of temporary holding facilities for juveniles who've been sentenced in Youth Court.

Tuesday, Sandra Roberson told the group she'd give them a year's free rent on property she bought and developed several years ago to open an alcohol rehabilitation program. The property off Highway 43 includes a vacant two-story structure and a barn that could be easily converted to housing, she said. The land includes a pond, sand beaches and an artesian well.

"My purpose was to buy a piece of property that would help people," Robertson told the meeting, explaining that her husband had died from alcoholism. While the center she envisioned establishing never materialized, she said she still yearns to put the tract and buildings to use to help others.

The initial meeting also prompted an offer from Dr. James E. Wall, a retired associate dean from Mississippi State University, to help with grant proposals the group may want to explore. He has extensive experience in proposal writing, and once set up a Job Corps program in Jamaica.

Mrs. Wall, meanwhile, has a sister who operates a shelter

Supervisors rejecting plans for new casino

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER The Hancock County Board of Supervisors have stepped in to try to stop a proposed casino from coming in on the Harrison/ Hancock County line near Diamondhead.

"They will be using Hancock County resources and Harrison County will be getting all of the tax dollars," Board President Mike Ladner said.

Ladner read a letter from Preserve Diamondhead's Quality, Inc., which told the supervisors of the potential location of two casinos, two 400-room hotels, entertainment complex impact upon the Bay, on the counted," Kellar said. public welfare and the surtrict and Solid Waste Management District granting Lone Star Pine Hills Corp. to negotiate an agreement with Diamondhead Water and Sewer District for services to the casinos.

"Diamondhead has a good system for Diamondhead and the area. I don't think that the system can handle the stress of the added casinos," Ladner

Flags to fly for month, to honor military

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Special emphasis will be placed on patriotism in the City of Bay St. Louis from Oct. 8 through Veterans Day on Nov.

Gene Schloegel, Bay Flag Memorial chairman, a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Bay-Waveland Elks, is coordinating a month of special activities. Schloegel said, "The purpose is for the recognition of the men and women at the Mississippi Coastal Military installations, Hancock County veterans and at the same time focusing attention to the POW/MIA issue."

Events planned begin with the Bay High AFJRROTC Cadets raising military and POW flags on Sat., Oct 8, to be flown from the light poles on Highway 90, Bay St. Louis.

This will conclude with the annual Veterans Day parade to be held on Fri, Nov. 11 in Waveland. The parade is cosponsored by American Legion Posts No. 77 and 139. Also participating are VFW's, DAV's, schools, civic groups, organizations and individuals. Formation for the parade will be by the Waveland American Legion Home at 9:30 followed by the parade at 10 a.m.

The Bay High Cadets will be talking about alcohol and other drug problems to elementary students in Bay St. Louis. They will also distribute a VFW educational coloring book on alcohol and other drugs to students, Schloegel said.

"All business and homeowners are urged to display their flags from Oct. 8 through Nov. 11, too," Schloegel said.

Gaits to Success

Gaits to Success, the Gulf Coast Therapeutic Riding Center. accredited by the North American Riding for The Handicapped Association, Inc., located at Skipperfield Farm, Kiln, was host to a national workshop Sept. 23-25. On Skipper, Danny Woodrick receives Hippotherapy, as Linda Mitchell, physical therapist. Morris Town, Fla. watches progress from rear. Leading the horse is Paula Breun, riding instructor, Denise Sepalvudo, left, occupational therapist of New Orleans; and Carol Wood, Greater New Orleans Riding Center volunteer. Barbara Kaiser is coordinator of Gaits to Success. For further information call 255-5368. (Echo staff photo by Ellis C. Cuevas)

Board reviews plans for school additions

BY CHARLEE MARSHALL The Bay-Waveland School District is one step closer to getting new classrooms at Waveland Elementary and North Bay Elementary schools. The school board, during a special meeting Monday night, hired architect Kevin Fitzpatrick to go forward in designing the additions, needed because of overcrowding in the two schools. He will draw the specifications and oversee the building project.

Fitzpatrick brought rough sketches of the possible new classrooms, as he was requested to do at the board's workshop last week. When the board members reviewed his initial drawings made on both schools' preliminary site plans, they agreed that the classrooms would be more economical built in a cluster of six (or four) than in a line. The plan for Waveland's addition was found to be better suited to the back part of the school. It was originally targeted for the playground be in front of the school. Board member Richard Flowers reported that he had viewed school expansion in area. North Bay's additions will Pass Christian, where they used cinder block and brick. The possibility of using those materials, instead of metal fabrication, remains an option in Bay-Waveland's building plans.

There are "all kinds of possibilities," Fitzpatrick said.

The board and superintendent Paul Tisdale are concerned with costs and are determined to find the best way of funding possible.

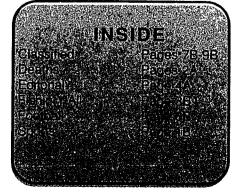

The architect gave them a ball park figure on the costs of the project. State funding is available for about half the costs. The board discussed getting a short term note in order to proceed with construction. The plans will first have to be approved by the state department in Jackson.

Donelle Giveans, an agenda requestor, asked the board to consider spending about $6,000 on new playground equipment for Waveland Elementary. She said there was not enough to go around for the amount of children who use it. She noted problems with the existing equipment and said it was wearing out from heavy use.

and splitting and a couple of children had already gotten hurt, she told the board.

Giveans said that the school's adopter, Wal-Mart, was willing to help and the Parent-Teacher Organization could possibly contribute, but she could not come up with a set amount as a request.

The school board has "no problem with giving money, but we don't have a clue as to what to give them," said member David Turcotte. Richard Flowers said the board could not fund the entire project and reminded the parent that the board would have to come up with similar improvements for North Bay to be equitable.

Giveans was asked to come up with a firm amount and the problem was tabled until she could meet with the PTO and Wal-Mart for their commitments.

Another parent, Theresa Duprey, supported Givean's efforts to obtain money for new playground equipment. She brought brochures to show what the parents and principal have in mind and pointed out the vibrant color would aid the children in gearing up for their physical activities

Another parent, Debra Bare asked the board to consider rerouting her child's school bus to a point nearer her home or having another bus transport her and other children on the street. The Bare's daughter, 6, has a lengthier walk this year, under the new bus schedule.

Administrative assistant Billy Rhodes had already reviewed the situation several times and could not see the merits in redesignating the routes because it would add ten to 15 minutes to the schedule. He said he would try to "work it out" if possible and promised to meet with the parents to review the routes.

The board took care of general business and voted to have Bay High's student council president sit in on regular sessions of the board meetings as school representative.

High school football action continues Friday night th all local teams seeing action.

The Tigers of Bay High will be visiting Pearl River Central in Carriere; Hancock High's Hawks will play host to the Bearcats of Long Beach; the Rock-A-Chaws of St. Stanislaus will host the Warriors of d'Iberville; and Pass Christian's Pirates will host Mercy Cross for homecoming.

Bay High's Tigers are 2-2 for the season and lost a heartbreaker last week to East Central by two points. PRC is always a formidable foe for Bay High, and the Tigers need to get it going if they expect to bring a win

Sporting two victories in a row, the Hawks of Hancock will have their hands full with the Long Beach Bearcats, the first team to set back the Pirates of Pass Christian this season.

I am sure head coach Rocky Gaudin will have the young Hawks ready for Long Beach.

Stanislaus has lost two real close encounters in a row at home. Last week for homecoming it was only by one point at the hands of Pass Christian.

D'Iberville is always competitive, and this year should be no exception.

The Rocks need a constant performance if they expect a win this week. Pass Christian, at 4-1 for the season, has the best record in the area and should be up for homecoming.

Mercy Cross should not be taken lightly, as it will also be a District game for Pass Christian.

Our local football teams need our support in the stands Friday night.

You can show your support by being in the grandstands, encouraging them on to victory.

I hope to see you at the game.

I was encouraged by a reader to mention the importance for motorists to observe stop signs at railroad crossings in the area.

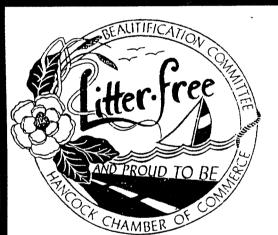

Stop signs are in place at all railroad crossing in Hancock County and should be observed.

A summons could be issued by police officers for running these stop signs.

An auto or truck is no formidable foe for one of those very large diesel engines. The engine wins every time.

I can recall a saying from many years ago about on crossing railroad tracks. I think went this way: 'Stop, look and listen before crossing.'

Drive safely.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Beach homes continue to be Bay's showcase

Dear Editor:

Beach Boulevard is once again becoming one of the most beautiful drives in the country. With the impressive new sand beach and the spectacular first days of autumn upon us, it is a delight to take an early morning or late evening drive along Beach Boulevard.

Even in the dark years following Hurricane Camille, the drive reflected the great pride of its inhabitant, many of whom were struggling against monumental odds to secure and restore their homes.

A few deep scars remain the porch of the Stahle home at St. Charles and Beach Boulevard and the perfectly manicured lawn where the Brignac home stood before its recent devastating fire — but most properties look the best they have in years.

Bay St. Louis has over 570 homes on the National Register of Historic Places and although most are always well kept, the 400 block of South Beach Boulevard is especially attractive this

The grand Swoop Manor at 414 South Beach Boulevard was built in 1853 and retains its kitchen and dining room separated from the manor house by an open "couloir". This home has been in the same family more than a hundred years.

The charming Sullivan cottage at 416 South Beach Boulevard is perhaps even earlier in construction, having been moved forward on the property during the 19th century.

The exquisite Green home at 418 South Beach Boulevard commands its location so prominently that it is difficult to believe that it was originally built as a "model home" in the Louisiana Exposition of 1884 and, following the fair, was moved to Bay St. Louis by barge.

The intriguing Languirand home, "Hill Top," at 502 South Beach Boulevard pre-dates the Civil War. It is referred to on the 1894 Sanborne Maps as "Bird Cage Cottage." It is sparkling white with blue trim.

The Ames home at 504 South Beach, which suffered severe fire damage, is undergoing meticulous restoration to its 1880 splendor.

The century-old Davidson home at 700 South Beach was moved to the present location following Hurricane Camille. Its tasteful restoration to elegance and comfort deserves high praise indeed.

All the above homes are rated as being of "primary significance." which is the highest rating applied by the National Register. Although there are many other properties deserving of recognition, these, being so close together, are especially notable. We salute their

Department of Corrections

problems plague governor

EYES ON

MISSISSIPPI

By Bill Minor

Corrections Commissioner Eddie Lucas has opened the lid on the Fordice administration's first big mess of corruption and mismanagement, and the administration doesn't seem to know how to handle it. State Auditor Steve Patterson has been in the Corrections

The sudden exit of bumbling

Department with his investigators for several weeks. But all Patterson can deal with is civil misfeasance and wasteful spending. Criminal malfeasance, which seems to have been going on in the department must be pursued by someone else. But by whom?

Fordice doesn't trust anyone in state government who is a Democrat, consequently he won't call on Atty. Gen. Mike gation. Apparently, he will expect his own appointee, Commissioner of Public Safety Jim Ingram to do it. To crack down on criminality inside the Fordice administration is certainly going to be a test for Ingram, the former veteran high-ranking FBI agent who once before earlier this year swept under the rug what looked very much like criminal wrongdoing in the highway patrol detachment at the Governor's Mansion. Two patrol officers apparently used prisoner trustees at the mansion to work on their personal residences or business establishments.

Ingram, however, kissed it off as strictly an internal personnel matter and did nothing more than transfer the two key officers involved.

Ironically, the first public mention of corruption in Lucas' regime at Corrections came from the office of Inspector General Gerald Gafford, a creature of Fordice's own making which the Legislature has refused to establish by law or to fund.

When Linda Rochelle, an employee for Gafford's office quit a month ago and went public about the mess in Corrections, the Fordice administration tried to throttle her, and Fordice's new Chief of Staff Mark Garriga impuned Rochelle's motives on grounds she had a brother imprisoned in Parchman.

Rochelle revealed that the Fordice administration was so incensed by the pursuit of the Corrections Department by Gafford's office that it was reacting by abolishing the job.

But the Fordice people obviously realized that something was bad wrong at Corrections even though Fordice was testy on television, blaming the media for insinuations of corruption in the department. And the fact that Patterson had launched a major investigative audit at Corrections did not go unnoticed by the Fordice people.

Reportedly Garriga, who came into his job with "nice guy" credentials, again showed his irrascibility by personally excoriating Lucas in his office. The word is that Lucas thereupon declared that he "didn't have to take this" and said he was quitting and taking retirement.

Lucas' interim successor Stu Murphy, a former FBI agent who has been heading the state Parole Board, didn't waste any time showing what a tough guy he is by launching his own investigation into the mess he inherited, including employees peddling drugs in the prison system. Only a day after he took over, Murphy that some 30 employees had gotten promotions after falsifying their educational qualifications.

However, because he lacks the right personnel, he is limited in what he can do in the way of a criminal investigation. I can personally testify from knowing Murphy when he was assigned to the Jackson office of the FBI that he is a hard-nosed, hard-driving law enforcement officer.

Some familiar with his tenure at the Parole Board say, however, that he has clamped down mercilessly on granting paroles, intensifying the prison overcrowding problem.

The state's new surge into handling prisoners, being done under tight scrutiny of the federal courts, has become big business for which the state is launching a $56 million spending program. Of special interest is the Corrections Department plan to purchase special electronic ankle bracelets to monitor some 600 house arrest inmates initially. It so happens that the company seeking to sell the monitors to the state is represented by a new lobbyist, who is Andy Taggart, recently resigned as Fordice's Chief of Staff.

Taggart is seen often coming and going to and from the Governor's office these days, despite the fact that he is now a paid lobbyist who curries favor with state agencies such as Corrections.

Lucas was the only black department head in the Fordice administration. He was, in effect, Fordice's "token" black. There's little chance another black will now take his place.

Apparently what Lucas needs to worry most about now is staying out of jail.

Presbyterians appreciate Bay's efforts on streets, sidewalks

Dear Editor:

We in the community reap the benefits of Bay St. Louis. New sidewalks, especially those replacing broken, dangerous walks, are now easily accessible for walkers, buggies and strollers around town.

Top that with some new streets and parking, this is making our travel easy and convenient.

The Session at First Presbyterian Church Bay St. Louis extends its emphatic appreciation to Bay St. Louis and to the crews for the orderly preparation and efficient job completing work in the 100 block of Ulman

For Keith Mitchell, WAVELAND FIRST Is More Than Just A Campaign Slogan

 \mathbf{W} hen Keith Muchell first decided to run for the office of the Mayor of Waveland, it was at the urging of people who know what he has already done for this city and its citizens. For example, he took the long overdue steps no one else had taken for the reclassification of our city's flood rating resulting in lower flood insurance costs and more money in our pockets.

Keith Muchell established a data base of available funding for the special needs of our cuy and then worked diligently to bring in the thousands of badly needed dollars that will guarantee the continuation of programs like the R.S.V.P. for our older citizens.

And thanks to Keith Mitchell, we will soon see a beautiful arboretum exhibit at the intersection of Highways 603 and 90 coming into the city. The list goes on. Most importantly, with Keith Mitchell as our mayor, that list of accomplishments for our community will grow even longer.

 \boldsymbol{A} s the Director of Community Development for Waveland, Keith knows firsthand the real needs of this city. He knows what to do to set things right Kenh-Mitchell has already demonstrated his commitment to put WAVE-LAND FIRST. He has developed that commitment into a solid, comprehensive plan of action designed to ensure the future success of our city. We need the leadership and the dedication of Keith Mitchell as our first full-time mayor to put WAVELAND FIRST. We need Keith Mitchell and we need WAVE-LAND FIRST.

Mammography is now FDA-approved

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has awarded NorthShore Regional Medical Center an official Mammography Facility Certificate. The certificate means that the hospital has earned U.S. government approval for performance of mammograms.

The Mammography Quality Standards Act goes into effect on Oct. 1, National Breast Cancer Awareness Month. The new law mandates that all facilities performing mammograms must first be FDA approved.

Approved facilities are required to prominently display their certificates so that patients can be assured of propperformance mammograms.

In recognition of National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, NorthShore Regional Medical Center is offering mammograms for a cash price of $45.

The special price is offered only during the month of October and includes a mammogram performed by certified technicians and interpretation by a board-certified radiologist.

According the to American Cancer Society, one in nine women up to age 85 will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. However, the survival rate can be as high as 93 percent, if the cancer is detected in a localized

Jobless rate drops

The labor force situation in Mississippi continued to improve in August, despite some seasonal influences which lowered both the unemployed and employed totals. The jobless rate fell half a point to stand at 6.5 percent, the lowest level of the year so far.

Students returning to school and exiting the summer job market were a major influence in pushing the employed and jobless totals downward.

Manufacturing jobs were up about a thousand over July, and several other sectors recorded gains also. These were offset by some losses in farm-related jobs and jobs in the service industries.

The new jobless rate for August was just a hair higher than the 6.4 percent figure tallied in August one year ago, indicating a leveling off in longterm economic gains.

When adjusted for seasonality, the unemployment rate was down three-tenths of a point, lending credence to the fact that economic progress is continuing.

As always, conditions varied widely across the Magnolia State, but most local areas showed at least some improvement in joblessness when compared to July. Eleven counties registered rates of five percent or less during the month, while 14 counties reported joblessness in excess of 10 percent.

Thirty -six counties matched or bettered the statewide rate of unemployment. Lafayette County led all others with a rate of 3.5 percent.

Jefferson County was on the other end of the scale with a rate of 20.2 percent.

The months of September and October should bring further improvement in labor force conditions, as agricultural activity picks up and retail trade employment rebounds.

The final exit of students from the labor force will also be

House approves improved benefits for veterans

By Donald Mauffray

House of Representatives approved three veterans' bills recently that improve education, employment and housing opportunities. All three were amendments to current programs.

The education bill establishes flight training as a permanent program, authorizes a two-year pilot program for state-approved, alternative teacher certification programs and allows veterans to enroll in courses outside of the United States as long as they are approved by the Department of Veterans Affairs. The bill also allows job-training programs to run longer than 18 months.

The employment act requires federal contractors to expand affirmative action to Persian Gulf War veterans and other veterans who served on active duty during a period of conflict after 1975 and orders them to list all of their job openings associated with their federal contract.

The bill also directs the Bureau of Labor Statistics to include veterans who served on active duty after the Vietnam era, recently discharged veterans and women veterans in their studies to determine unemployment among

The housing amendments waive the two-year minimum service requirement for participation in the loan guarantee program for members of the armed services who are no longer on active duty because of a reduction in force.

They also allow the surviving spouses of reservists who died while on active duty or from service-connected disabilities to be eligible for the VA home loan guarantee program.

Reservists and National Guard members are eligible if they were activated on or after Aug. 2, 1990, served at least 90 days active duty and were discharged honorably.

In addition, the amendments discontinue the requirement

FISHIN

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all."

Boy, do I have some great news for the fishin' buddies. I have been searching for many years to find this news about a very special fish, but I just could not get any leads on where to locate this

I mean, everybody sees bunches of this fish in seafood markets and in restaurants. Nobody has been able to tell me where to go, or what type of bait would work best.

Anyway, I was down under the Fishing Tale Oak by LaFrance's Boat Launch, and this guy by the name of Joe Hasenfrasel gave me what he said was the absolute lowdown on where to catch this spe-

Now, anybody with a name like Hasenfrasel certainly deserves to be heard, especially since he was offering to give the Turtle some first-class information about fish.

Joe gave me directions as to the exact location of a deep hole to catch my special fish. He said I should go north, then east, then south, then west to find the hole.

I tried that and came right back to the Fishing Tale Oak. There was no deep hole there. But Joe was gone when I got back, so it is still a mystery as to the exact location of the deep hole where you can catch the famous Filet Fish.

If anybody sees Joe, please get him to tell the location of the deep hole, as there has to be a whole big bunch of Filet Fish in that hole. I mean, you see the things everywhere, but I don't think I have ever seen a live Filet Fish, so they gotta be swimming out there

The messy weather sorta slowed down the fishin' a little this past week. But, man-o-man did the fish go crazy when the super high tides that covered the marsh started to fall.

It seems the tide was over the grass for several days, which got the shrimp and the small bait fish plenty excited.

They started to come out from their hiding places to explore all the newly covered grassy areas.

When the tide started to drop, it caught the shrimp and the bait fish a long way from their usual place. The strong current associated with the falling tide then swept the little critters out to where the big critters live. The big critters just went absolutely bananas at the sight of all this new food and started feeding like

What I am trying to say in my usual long-winded way is, the fishing was slow for awhile, then it got super spectacular gooder.

There are a lot of small white shrimp that were flushed out of the marsh, so it looks like the trout and reds have slowed down on their usual fall fare of pogy for awhile and have switched to the abundant shrimp for their feed.

This means live shrimp should be the most productive bait for at least the next few weeks. The exception seems to be the plastic beetles. I guess that is because the plastic beetles look like shrimp. Before I get off the topic of shrimp, you should know that you can now catch shrimp off the seawall at night with a cast net.

Tigers and Rocks look to rebound, Hawks continue to roll

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Rocks will take on the Warriors from d'Iberville, the Hawks will take on the Bearcats of Long Beach, and the Tigers will face Blue Devils of Pearl River Central.

The Rocks will be mounting an attack against the Warriors of d'Iberville this Friday. After winning the first game of the season and breaking a 25-game losing streak the Rocks have dropped their last four games. SSC lost its Homecoming last week to the Pirates of Pass Christian 13-12. The Rocks will play in the friendly confines of Rock Stadium in Bay St. Louis.

The Hawks got their first win Hancock County's three high of the season two weeks ago by school football teams are in beating St. Stanislaus 20-13. Last week the Hawks defeated a previously undefeated Northshore of Louisiana team 21-14. This week the Hawks will play host to a strong Long Beach Bearcat team in the Kiln.

The Bay High Tigers suffered a heartbreaking loss to the Hornets of East Central 20-18. The Tigers will be on the rebound to jump back into the winning column this Friday against the Blue Devils of Pearl River Central. The Tigers will be away from home this week. All games will kick off at 7:30 p.m. See you at the game and good luck to your respective

The shrimp have been moving along the seawall and should come by you if you put a little "sweetener" in the water. Among the most popular sweetners are cans of Cozy Kitten cat food. It seems this stuff draws the shrimp like a magnet. It is funny though, I have never seen a cat shrimp.

Anyway, take a can or four or two and punch a bunch of holes in the can. Attach the can to a fairly strong piece of string. Tie the loose end of the string to something stout. If you use the Cozy Kitten sweetening this way, you can take the empty can home so it won't become a foot inspector on the water bottom after you leave

Hancock County is going to have some new fishing reefs real soon like. The DMR Commission announced at its meeting that the commission has received the application from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors for the placement of a fishing reef in the borrow pit just off the beach in Waveland.

They claimed the application is currently moving through processing, and the project should be completed sometime in November of this year. Fifteen barge-loads of broken concrete are tentatively scheduled to be placed to make this reef.

The commission further stated they are in the process of putting out bids for the purchase of reef materials to be placed in at least three other locations in Hancock County. The other locations are to be the Ulman Street pier, the American Legion pier, and the Waveland Community pier.

Some 250 cubic yards of lime stone material are scheduled to be placed in each of the three locations if the material can be obtained at a reasonable price.

A REPORT

Department of Marine Resources meeting

BY JIM MANESS

The monthly meeting of the Department of Marine Resources Commission was Sept. 19 in Henry Boardman was sworn in as a new member of the commission at this meeting. Boardman replaces Rusty David, who resigned last month.

Boardman will represent the interests of the charter boat industry. His list of qualifications were quite impressive. Among personal accomplishments, he is a decorated combat comment.

Mr. Van Devender and Dr. McIllwain presented charts and graphs supporting their desire to lower the minimum size limit on red fish to 18 inches:

A lawyer for GCCA presented GCCA's reason for demanding a 18 minimum size limit on red fish. No other comments on red fish were accepted at this meeting.

The minimum size on red fish of 16 inches, which is the same minimum size limit of Louisiana and Alabama, just went into effect last month after lengthy public hearings and the written uest of more than fishermen from the Gulf Coast.

The commissioners passed Ordinance 7.014 on a 4 to 2 vote at this meeting. The new ordinance, which was initiated by GCCA, will change the minimum size limit on red fish to 18 inches. Commissioner Webb Lee said he felt the average, little guy fisherman, will once again be the person hurt by the passage of this ordinance.

The commission set the opening of oyster season as Oct. 3. There are some special items that oyster fishermen should notice as they are different from

From Oct. 3 till Oct. 19, all harvested oysters are required to be placed under refrigeration within two hours after they are officially tagged.

From Oct. 19 forward the oysters are required to be placed under refrigeration within four hours after they are officially tagged. The new daily limit will be 50 sacks.

Additional amounts may be harvested on certain published holidays. George Wright, of No one spoke during the five enforcement, strongly recomminutes allowed for public mended that if anyone has any questions to call him at Gulf States Marine Fisheries Council (GSMFC) stated they would like to see some type of biodegradable crab trap required for use by crab fishermen.

Officer Terry Baker reported there were 34 violations, requiring either tickets or arrests last month.

The commission revoked the license of Who Zat Live Bait for having in excess of 260 pounds of dead shrimp aboard their live bait vessel. Only 30 pounds of dead shrimp are allowed on board a live balt vessel.

Permits for the building of piers and bulkheads were approved during this meeting. There was a change in the permitting process. An extension of a three-year permit will no longer be allowed.

In the future, a new permit application will be required after the three years expire.

A new public relations director for DMR was named. Her name is Lynn Lofton. She can be reached by calling 385-5860.

Lofton said she wants to have a "pro-active" approach to the community. She wants to develop a speakers bureau and other community educational services. Game and fisheries agencies should present themselves as friends to the public and not can't-do-this-or-that agency, according to Lofton.

Chairman Muths suggested the department create a longterm plan for establishing fishing reefs along the Coast. A plan will help the department acquire, and place, such items as military tanks, etc., as they become available in the future.

Several fishing reefs are in the final stages of approval and of this year. They include the placement of about 15,000 cubic yards of broken concrete in the borrow pit off the beach in Waveland.

Each coastal county is scheduled to have several fishing reefs in place over the next few vears.

A proposal was made to explore a comprehensive plan to control water craft activity. The tremendous increase in the amount of watercraft activity, as well as the need for uniform codes and regulations, was expressed as the reason for the need for a comprehensive plan.

The commission adjourned to closed executive session to discuss applications received for the office of executive director.

The next scheduled DMR Commission meeting is Oct. 17 at 9 a.m.

Henderson won't be playing this week; and three or four other players are hurt. There are a lot of little nagging injuries we have to get healed.

"Our schedule is taking its toll. We've been playing bigger schools, and it's taking it out of our players. It's tough knowing we'll be playing our third 4-A school in a row this week, but we just have to get in there and

The Rocks aren't suffering the same problems with injuries, LeBlanc said. "We've been lucky so far. We have a strong weight program that I credit with a lot of our team's good health. We work out four times a week, and that's helped our strength.

Pirates battle Egusaders

Both coaches said they considered the opposing teams to be tough. LeBlanc stated, "The Pirates will be well prepared. They have a good coaching staff. I've worked with Coach Brown in summer football camps, and he does an excellent job.

They have an extremely talented quarterback in Kevin Clark, and he has a connection with Leonard Ward.

"Let's face it; they're 3-1. The team has defeated two 3-A teams and a 4-A team, and last week they lost to the best team on the Coast. They're for real."

Brown said of the Rocks, "We've got to try to stop the whole SSC line. We'd like to win the game, to get back on track."

LeBlanc expressed similar sentiments: "We'll be full speed going into Friday's game."

Ed Nelson to MC Salute to Military program

Television and motion picture veteran Ed Nelson will be the master of ceremonies at the 16th annual Salute to the Military Oct. 14.

Ğeneral John M. Shalikashvili, Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will be the featured speaker with special guests U.S. Senator Trent Lott and U.S. Representative Gene Taylor.

Tickets for the event, which is open to the public, can be purchased at any of the Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce offices.

Nelson became one of television's most famous romantic leading men as Dr. Michael Rossi in the number one rated series "Peyton Place."

His career as a professional spans five decades and over 1,500 television performances and appearances in many Oscar-winning motion pictures such as "Judgment at Nuremberg," "Elmer Gantry," and the popular "Police Academy' pictures

Although "retired" now along his beloved Gulf Coast, Nelson recently completed a motion picture close to home. "Sister Island," about Hurricane Camille, will open in late winter or early spring.

Cochran awarded

U.S. Senator Thad Cochran has been named "Guardian of... Small Business" by the nation's largest small business advocacy organization, the National Federation of Independent NFIB represents more than 600,000 small and independent firms in all 50 states, including more than 5,500 in Mississippi.

The organization honors U.S. lawmakers who provide consistent support for free enterprise by voting favorably on key small-business issues at least 70 percent of the time during a two-year session of Congress. Cochran voted in favor of small business 88 percent of the time during the 103rd Congress.

Among crucial issues for entrepreneurs this session were legislative proposals dealing with balancing the federal budget, protecting small businesses from unfair bankruptcy laws, limiting taxes and restricting government intervention into smallbusiness operations.

Gas prices drop

AAA Mississippi announced that the average retail prices for gasoline have dropped across the state for the first time since May.

The AAA Mississippi Gas Price Survey for September found that the statewide average price for self-serve unleaded gasoline decreased 1.2 cents to $1.107 per gallon. Mid-grade unleaded fell 1.5 cents to $1.201 per gallon, and premium unleaded dropped 1.3 cents to $1.297 per gallon.

"One reason for this decrease in retail prices is that typically, as the summer driving season comes to a close, the demand for gasoline decreased," said Danon Jones, director of Public and Government Relations for AAA Mississippi.

'Another reason is that OPEC production is up due to the fact that the striking oil workers in Nigeria have gone back to work, causing the crude oil prices on the world market to decline. The highest average price for self-serve regular unleaded gasoline was reported in Greenville at $1.137 per gallon. The lowest average price was 1.036, reported in Hattiesburg.

Games - Midwest

Sunday and Morral Oct. 2-3

Atlanta, 24-L.A. Rams, 16 Andre Rison guaranteed an Atlanta win over the Rams three weeks ago, and his 12 catches—two for TD's—not only made him the Falcons' career reception leader, but helped them to a 31-13 win.

Buffalo, 27-Chicago, 14 The last time the Bills and Bears met was 1991, when Buffalo won 35-20. The Bills' offense hasn't regained last year's form, but Chicago is reeling from games with the Eagles, Vikings and Jets.

Dallas, 31-Washington, 17 This might be a good choice for an upset if the Cowboys weren't coming off a week of rest. The Redskins stunned Dallas in the '93 opener, 35-16, then reverted to form to lose the rematch 38-3. Detroit, 19-Tampa Bay, 13 With two teams that are still hard to read, we'd just as soon toss a coin. Since '91 the Lions and Buccaneers are 3-3; in '93

T.B. won first, 27-10 at home, then Detroit got even at home, Green Bay, 22—New England, 20 Yes, the Patriots can scare teams with so-so defenses (Dolphins, Bills), but their offense tends to wilt against the real thing. The Packers trounced N.E. 45-3 in '88, the last time Miami, 32—Cincinnati, 14

The Dolphins should add to their six-game win streak against the Bengals, whom they haven't played since '91. Don Shula can't let his players' thoughts wander to next week's battle with Buffalo. Minnesota, 28-Arizona, 15

Any time Warren Moon, Jim McMahon and Buddy Ryan roam the same field — watched by some cranky Arizona fans - it's bound to be interesting. This may be closer than expected: Defense may decide it.

N.Y. Giants, 29—New Orleans, 19

Though Dave Brown is still learning, the Giants look like a playoff team and the Saints look like they're sliding into oblivion. Last year they met in similar circumstances and N.Y. won 24-14.

N.Y. Jets, 26-Cleveland, 21 Yet another road winner? Maybe not — the Browns exploded two weeks ago at home against Arizona. But the Jets, who haven't met Cleveland since '91, have been playing better against better teams.

San Francisco, 33-Philadelphia, 24 In the final game of the regular season last year, the Eagles beat the 49ers in overtime, 37-34, their first win over S.F. since '83. This time, though, the 49er starters will stay in the Seattle, 23-Indianapolis, 13 The Colts have taken two of their three games with the Seahawks, though Seattle won 31-3 the last time they played, in '91. The only notable feature of either team thus far is the 'Hawks' defense.

Pittsburgh, 20-Houston, 12 (Monday) Neither team is generating much offense, but this is an important game in the wide open AFC Central. Last year the Oilers beat the Steelers easily twice, 23-3 at home and 26-17 in Pittsburgh.

 — denotes home team (Open date: Denver, Kansas City, L.A. Raiders, San Diego)

OLA has three national Merit Semifinalists Erica Lizana, Lisa Pope and Society and Math/Science Team.

Julie Ryan, seniors at Our Lady Academy, have been designated semifinalists in the 1995 National Merit Scholarship Competition.

Semifinalists are selected on the basis of their scores on the PSAT/NMSQT taken in their junior year of high school.

Erica Lizana

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Lizana from Pass Christian, Erica Lizana is an Alpha Honor roll student, secretary of the National Honor Society and president of OLA's Environmental Club.

She is also a member of Campus Ministry, the Student Ministry Team, the Senior Retreat Team and SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving).

A member of the Crescent

Athletic Club, Lizana has played on the softball and volleyball teams for four years and has joined the newly organized basketball team this year.

She was chosen to be a member of St. Stanislaus' 1995 Homecoming Court.

Lizana is a lector and a member of the choir at St. Stephen Church in DeLisle and vicepresident of her parish CYO.

Last year, Lizana was a member of the JETS TEAM (Junior Engineering Technical Society) which placed first in their division in Mississippi and eighth in the nation.

She also scored in the top ten percent in the individual biology competition at the Math/ Science Tournament in Clinton.

At OLA she received math, biology, English and service

Pope's choice of college is Tulane University where she would like to major in premedicine.

Julie Ryan Julie Ryan, an all-A Honor Roll student, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Ryan from Pass Christian. President of the National Honor Society and secretary of the Latin Honor Society, she is a member of the Quiz Bowl, SADD, Environmental Club and yearbook staff. Ryan is also a member of the Crescent Athletic Club and participates in cross-country events.

Ryan is active in the Youth Legislature and attended the National Young Leaders Conference in Washington, DC last November. She was chosen for the Mississippi Governor's School this past summer.

Ryan is president of St. Paul's Catholic Youth Organization, a lector and commentator at St. Paul Church and a member of OLA's Campus Ministry, Student Ministry Team and Senior Retreat Team.

She attended the World Youth Day with the Pope in Denver last year. She has tutored students after school for two years and assisted in the Waveland Literacy Program last year.

Recognized as a "Student of the Month" for the last three years, Ryan received the Bausch and Lomb Science award last year as well as advanced biology, Latin, advanced math, American his-awards, as well as "Student of the Month" last year. She was chosen to attend the Mississippi Governor's School this past summer.

Lizana is interested in premedicine. Her choice of college is uncertain at the present time.

Lisa Pope

Lisa Pope is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pope of Bay St. Louis. She is an Alpha Honor Roll student, secretary of the senior class, and a member of the yearbook staff, Crescent Athletic Club, and the OLA News Team for morning announcements (WOLA).

Serving with Campus Ministry, Pope has worked with an autistic child in the Project Do program both during the school year and in the summer. She is a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

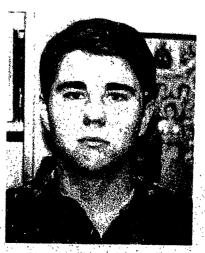

Last year Pope was secretary of her junior class and was elected "city clerk" at Girls State last summer. She is a past member of the French Honor tory, chemistry, religious studies and service awards.

Last year, Ryan was also a member of the Math/Science Team and the JETS TEAM. which placed first in their division in Mississippi and eighth in the nation.

Ryan plans to major in mathematics and education at Vanderbilt University.

To qualify as a finalist, a semifinalist must have an outstanding academic record, must be endorsed and recommended by the school principal, must submit SAT I scores that confirm his or her PSAT/NMSQT performance, and must complete a detailed scholarship application that provides information about the student's educational interests and goals, as well as participation and leadership in school and community activities. About 90 percent of the semifinalists are expected to become finalists.

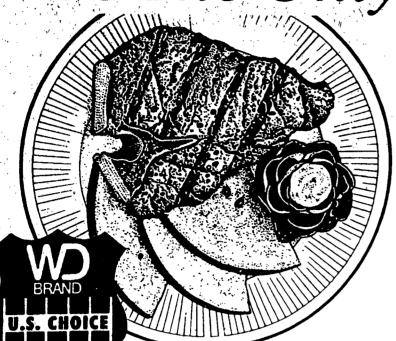

Studying

Jason Brunsell, a St. Stanislaus College Prep senior, spent this summer at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh, Pa. participating in the school's pre-college program, Advanced Placement/Early Admission (APEA). He studied both chemistry and calculus. Jason is the son of Mrs. Rebecca Brunsell of Pass Christian.

St. Stanislaus seguiors re

On Wednesday, Sept. 7, the seniors of the 141st graduating class of St. Stanislaus College Prep in Bay St. Louis received their senior class rings at a special Mass and ceremony held in Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

The Rev. J. P. Grenham, religion teacher at Redeemer-Seton High School in New Orleans, was the celebrant.

Brooks Quinlan, student body president, welcomed the seniors and their guests. Lectors during the liturgy were Jeep Mestayer, student council vice-president, and Sonny Schindler and Eugene Schmitt, senior class representatives.

Ashley Cox, Key Club president, was the cross bearer. Scott Dennis, cheerleader co-captain, and Jean Dubuisson, band vicepresident, were altar servers.

Tom Ackerman, guitarist, and Walter Damiens, organist, were the musicians. Brother Adrian Gaudin, SC, was master of ceremonies.

Dr. Michael Ryan, principal, distributed the rings to the seniors, assisted by Brother Joseph Donovan, SC, Andrew Kivlan and Susan Estrade, administrative team members.

Addressing the seniors, Dr. Ryan stressed the significance of wearing the senior ring as a symbol of the rich traditions of St. Stanislaus and the Brothers of the Sacred Heart.

A reception for the seniors and their guests was in the stu-dent union. Mary Dillenkoffer, members of the Parent Leader-ship Team, and SSC students hosted the reception.

The senior class of 1995 includes Jason Battle, Robbie Beckwith, Sterling Bell, Brandon Benoit, Michael Bolian, Beau Bosworth, James Bottoms, Jason Brunsell, Michael Caboni, Chris Carville, Brian Cheramie, Eric Coffer, Kendrick Coulter, Patrick Cousins, B. USM theatre opens 1994-95 season

The University of Southern Mississippi Department of Theatre and Dance will open the 1994-95 season with J. Hartley Manners' 'Peg O' My Heart.'

Performance dates are Oct. 4-8 at 8 p.m. and Oct. 9 at 2 p.m. in the Hartwig Arena Theatre. Peg O' My Heart is a charming romantic comedy directed by veteran faulty member Dr. Blaine Quarnstrom. The play tells the story of Peg, a feisty young Irish girl, and the chaos that ensues when she is sent to bve in England with the Chi- majors with an emphasis in perchesters, a conservative British family.

Although the setting for the play is turn-of-the-century Engand, the actual story deals with such timely issues as women's rights and freedom of the individual, as the rebellious Peg refuses to conform to outdated social standards.

Cast members include Betsy Thompson, Chris Milner, Wendy Obstler, Scott Stinson, Thom Fielder, Robert Fisher, Katie Reichard, Matt McClellan and Joan Cair. All are USM theatre

formance studies.

Tickets are $4 for USM faculty/staff, students and senior adults and $6 general admission.

All tickets are reserved seating. No phone reservations can be made. Tickets may be purchased not at Hartwig Arena Theatre Box Office Monday-Friday, 11 a.m.-1:30 p.m. and 4-5:30 p.m.

Children with Epilepsy

My child daydreams a lot and once had a seizure with a high fever. Could this be a sign of epilepsy?

What should a parent do when a child is having a seizure?

How can épilepsy be controlled?

To pilepsy can be controlled with regular diagnosis, medication and diet. The professionals at The Children's Center at NorthShore Regional Medical Center can help make epilepsy easier for you and your child to live with.

Dr. Aristoteles Pena-Miches, the only pediatric neurologist on the north shore, will answer questions and show a videotape on the most common types of seizures. He will explain the symptoms, diagnostic procedures and effective treatments for children with epilepsy in a free seminar called "Children with Epilepsy" on Thursday, October 6 at 7 p.m. at NorthShore Regional Medical Center.

Seating for the seminar is limited and reservations are required. Call our 24 hour line at 1-800-723-8723 for a reservation today.

Get the facts about epilepsy. It could make your life — and your child's life — a whole lot easier.

A new $3.6 million associate degree nursing and wellness building will soon become a reality on the Pearl River Community College campus.

After learning that funding was in place, mainly because of support from the six counties in PRCC's supporting district, the college board of trustees gave the okay Tuesday to start the design process. The ADN building is the largest single construction project ever approved by the college's board.

We have had an unusual degree of cooperation and participation by all six boards of supervisors," said PRCC Presi-dent Ted Alexander. "I commend them for understanding our need and providing the needed assistance.'

PRCC's district includes Forrest, Hancock, Jefferson Davis, Lamar, Marion and Pearl River

The board actually acted on $5 million of construction proiects at Tuesday's meeting. In the package is approval for a $300,000 addition to the Forrest County Allied Health Center in Hattiesburg, and the advertisement for bids for a $1.1 million student center.

With funding and board approval in place, construction on the student center will kick off phase two of the college's renovation to Crosby Hall, a 70-year-old building which previously housed PRCC's cafeteria. The college opened its new $1.2 million cafeteria in

"This is a day of celebration," said Peggy Dease, director of the associate degree nursing program. "It's a day all of us here on staff thought would be much further down the road."

Pearl River leaders have been seeking funds for the new nursing center because of a shortage of classroom and laboratory space.

It is anticipated that with the new facility, Pearl River could double its nursing enrollment over the next few years. Some 300 qualified applicants now compete for the 90 slots available each fall.

Building plans

Pearl River Community College board members, from left, Frank Ladner of Bay St. Louis, Emil Pav of Purvis, Bill Davis of Columbia and Frank McClinton of Carriere, review architect renderings of a $3.6 million nursing and wellness center building planned for the Poplarville campus. Support from all of PRCC's six supporting counties allowed the board to authorize the project. The board also approved a $300,000 addition to the Allied Health Center in Hattiesburg and voted to advertise for construction of a $1.1 million student center.

PRCC business manager Ron Holmes said the complete funding package included $878,000 in state bond money, $941,671 in state legislative-approved capital improvement funds, $60,000 in private donations and $1,640,000 in anticipated bond money, which the counties will repay over 15 years.

The college will contribute $290,000 from its enlargement and improvement fund to help pay for the project. Holmes told the board that the college had more than adequate funds in the reserve account.

"The transfer from our reserve will not affect our sec-urity," said Holmes. "We will still have a healthy reserve for any unexpected needs."

The college had asked each county to support the building project by obligating onequarter mill over the 15-year

Each county agreed to help with slight alternations to the financial arrangement by each. For example, Pearl River County could only increase its support by two-tenths of a mill because that was all that was left on its six-mill cap to the college.

Support form Forrest, Marion and Jefferson Davis counties differs in how the funding is distributed during the 1995 fiscal year.

The addition to the Allied Health Center, which opened in 1992, will make possible the state's only occupational therapy assistant program. The program was approved this past summer and should be operational by 1995.

The wellness center, part of the nursing building, will include an indoor jogging and walking track, health facilities, fitness machines and a separate entrance. The wellness center will allow the college to teach a better concept of life-long health habits.

"We need to do a better job of teaching good health practices," said Alexander. "Students, faculty and the community will be encouraged to participate."
